BOB-BOB-BOBBIN' ALONG...

A message from our President

Greetings to my Little Green Leprechauns,

I hope none of you got pinched on St Patrick's Day! I am as always concerned about your well-being!

What a busy time for our guild! Turn in deadline for the show is the 20th. I was so proud to hear that everyone really stepped up and registered their quilts--a total of 274!

There is still time to turn in items for the Stock the Shop and Ways and Means. Carol Parrish and Sandi Vetter will be at the meeting on the 26th to pick up your items. Our country store should be terrific!

Bring your small quilts for the auction to Therese Ramsey. Be sure to fill out the form that goes with it.

There are also many opportunities for volunteering so catch Joe Ann Reaves at the sign-up table at the meeting. She will be happy to pencil you in.

Sell those donation quilt tickets and be sure to remember to turn in money to Barb Hancock.

Be sure to remember string quilts for Paula Mariedaughter for that display.

Whew! Lots to do!

We are now less than a month away from the quiltly happiness which is our amazing quilt show. In 1990 I got some quilt blocks from my mother's cedar chest and decided to put them together for a quilt. I KNEW NOTHING ABOUT QUILTING! I saw a flyer for a quilt show in Springfield and I went. I believe it was in a church. I was blown away by the show and the community who had produced it. I wanted to be a part of it. We soon moved west of Tulsa and I found the Green Quilters' Guild. My life has not been the same. Our quilt show accomplishes many things--it raises money for our programs, allows us an outlet to share our creative projects, and encourages us to stretch our talents and learn new techniques. But most importantly we share our love of quilting and our sense of community. I don't know if I would have ever finished that first quilt if I had not walked into that little quilt show. I certainly would not have found this community I love. I think of this every time I work at a quilt show.

Your very own St. Patrick (although I don't chase snakes),

Kathy

QUILT SHOW NEWS

BY DIANE CRANDELL – QUILT SHOW CHAIR

By the time you get this newsletter, one important quilt show deadline will have passed – March 6th, Quilt registration! We had 274 quilts registered! Woo Hoo!!!! Good job everybody!! We have nine Challenge quilts registered so we meet the minimum number to be sent to the Ultimate Quilt Challenge for 2016. We are unable to send it to the 2015 challenge because THEIR deadline is March 23rd. We won't even get our quilts judged until March 24th. Therefore, we will enter them in the 2016 challenge.

The last deadline is 5:00 p.m. March 20, 2015. All quilts must be delivered to a designated drop-off location. There are SEVERAL drop-off locations. I'm sure there is one near you.

Now that all the quilts for the show have hit their deadline, you have time now to make another quilt for the small quilt auction!!

There is still time to take the raffle quilt to other functions you participate in outside the guild. Take some bookmarks with you and the raffle quilt and sell tickets. The quilt is so beautiful, it sells itself. It isn't hard to do!!

We are still gladly accepting products for Stock the Shop. Make up several goodies and give them to Nora Krein.

Please bring your unwanted fat quarters and fat eighths and give them to Betty Workman so we can sell them at the show.

See or call Lori Jones if you would like to have one or more quilts appraised for insurance purposes or just because you're curious about its history.

If you already know what area you want to help out with during the show, give Joe Ann Reaves a call and let her know where to sign you up. You CAN sign up for more than one activity. They are ALL fun! Talking about volunteering – we need a couple people to help during set up to sit and sort out S-hooks and chains. Suzanne Kittrell could use some help with putting the signage out along the road.

Keep distributing "bookmarks" with information about our show wherever you go. Pass them out to your friends and family. Take posters to businesses you frequent and ask if they will post it for you. We want everyone to know that a great quilt show is coming!!

We are going to have Door Prize baskets during the show. Vendors can either provide an entire basket, or donate to a basket. Charlotte Ralston has agreed to be the organizer of the baskets. If you would like to help Charlotte gather up the goodies, please give her a call. Now THAT would be a FUN job!!!

Here is a list of the various activities going on in preparation for the quilt show and how our many volunteers are making it happen. If you have any questions about any of the activities, or better yet, would like to volunteer to help out, please give these ladies a call. They would welcome your help!!! Their numbers are listed in the membership booklet.

QUILT SHOW IS DAYS AWAY!

- Small Quilt Auction – Therese Ramsey

SMALL QUILT AUCTION

A NOTE FROM THERESA RAMSEY

I have 42 quilts turned in for the auction as of right now. The deadline to turn in quilts is at the March QUILT meeting. I know there are several quilts that will be turned in at that time, and I thank you! If you haven't made one yet there still is time to participate!!! Last year we had around 80 quilts to auction off and I'd like to be closer to that number for this show.

Now that your quilts are registered for the show, start sewing again, and think small!

It's going to be a great fundraiser!

STRINGPIECED QUILT DISPLAY

A NOTE FROM JOAN BEYETTE & PAULA MARIEDAUGHTER

We want to display your string pieced quilt at our April 10th & 11th quilt show in our special exhibit called,

Strings and Things: Creative Scrap Quilts.

Please let us borrow your string quilt!

Whether it's made from selvages, blue jeans, chunky scraps, sewn over newspapers or foundation pieced, we want a wide variety. Each will expand our ideas on how to use all our scraps.

Fancy or plain, old or new—bring your string quilt to our April guild meeting. We will take good care of it.

QUILT SHOW VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

A NOTE FROM JOE ANN REAVES – VOLUNTEER CHAIR

You can run but you can't hide! Diane Crandell has already told you she won't let me do any arm twisting this time but she didn't say I couldn't threaten if need be!

Several of you have signed up at our meetings but we're a long way from our goal. We have a place for everybody and we need your help to make this a wonderful show. The sign-up sheets will be listed in hourly time slots. If you want to work an hour at Admissions, shop, then work another hour at White Gloves instead of a two hour shift then we can work it out. You'll need time for shopping, too! We need volunteers for Quilt Show Set-Up, Quilt Show Tear Down, Quilt Hanging, Admissions, White Gloves, Donation Quilt, This 'N That Shoppe, Small Quilt Auction Set-Up, Small Quilt Auction and Volunteer Table. We will also have an Available to Fill In list. We will have chairs for White Gloves volunteers. YOU WILL RECEIVE FREE ADMISSION TO THE QUILT SHOW FOR ONE DAY IF YOU WORK A TOTAL OF 4 HOURS. Time flies when you're having fun!

Please call me at 925-7001 or 619-9204 so you can get your favorite time to volunteer. You can also email me at JoeAREaves@aol.com.

Thank you!

UFO AND STOCK THE SHOP

A NOTE FROM NORA KREIN

UFO Challenge Winners will be announced and gifted at the March Guild Meeting. Gifts will be awarded on number completed; plus, we will have a drawing for the President's Award!

Stock the Shop: You may give items for this right up until Quilt Show! Remember, for every item submitted, your name is entered for a drawing. Multiple gifts will be given. Get your quilts turned in by midnight the 20th of March, and then stitch for Stock the Shop. The drawing for Stock the Shop will be at the April Guild Meeting. Just a reminder, YOU will want to shop at the Quilt Show – you members have donated awesome items. I'm sure you have forgotten plus I've not taken time to show you all donations. Invite your friends, family and enemies to shop at the show!

March 26, 2015 - What Now, Kate Eelkema
April 23, 2015 - open
May 28, 2015 - Airing of the Quilts

Tonight's Program: Strut Your Stuff

Nora started out the meeting presenting three surprise gifts for three lucky members.... she stated that she has to make time to quilt so the first surprise was a timer, this meant that you had 5 minutes in a room to do everything needed and you couldn't leave till the time is up; the second surprise was cuticle oil from Japan for your cuticles won by Roberta Harris; and the third was Pattern Sew Journal to document your work, patterns, etc. won by Janet Brown.

Strut Your Stuff - Hobbies Other Than Quilting by Guild Members

1.) Kathy Drexler is a new member to quilting but her first hobby was Cross Stitching which she began over 35 years ago. She is a retired nurse and creates two dimensional cross stitch, earliest was Pilgrim Hall. She brought several pieces of her beautiful needlework for everyone to see. Kathy mentioned that most people used embroidery hoops but this just stretches the cloth and leaves dirt whereas she uses dowels and rolls up the piece as she stitches. She takes the patterns and enlarges the sections she is going to work on. Her first piece stitched 35 years ago still hangs in her Laundry Room, and she has made one for each new grandchild she has. She puts her cross stitching on many items such as aprons, placemats, virtually anything. She closed her portion of the program by telling us she's had years of enjoyment out of cross stitch and now she is enjoying quilting too.

2.) Donna Murray is with her husband at the hospital and couldn't attend and give her program.

3.) Therese Ramsey - her hobby other than quilting is making Stained Glass Artwork. She became fascinated with colors and textures of the glass she saw when she was in a little shop in Overland, Kansas. She started quilting in early 80's but stained glass around 2000. She took a class and worked there for about 7 years. She does a variety of styles, foiled copper wrapped glass, leaded glass, and she loves the English Panels. She brought several of her beautiful pieces and discussed each one. Therese said it takes time to cut, grind, lead, foil and solder a piece and your tools can make all the difference.

Nora thanked Kathy and Therese for their programs and showing us their other hobby!

Next month Nora will announce the winner of the UFO Challenge.

Also next month don't forget your stock the shop items.

Newsletter - Cassie Robinson

Don't forget our contest, name the newsletter! On Monday, March 9th have your entries to her, then they will be narrowed down by the board. Then at the next meeting we will have names on jars and you will be able to vote on the name! The winner of the contest will receive a $25 gift card!

Vendors – Betty McKee

March meeting – Piece of Heaven, Mountainburg, AR

Cuddly Quilts for Kids – Janice Berry/Diana Gilchrist, Lou McClellan: Janice reported that from May of 2014 to present they have given away 120 quilts. She also reported that NTI gave her a date of Saturday, May 2nd that might work for a baby workshop.

Kitchen Committee: We need to find some members to replace the current committee who wish to be taken off.

Quilt Show 2015 – Diane Crandell

Diane reported everything is going well and at this time we have 186 quilts entered. Deputy Mark Wibert from the Benton County Sheriff's Office volunteered himself and other officers to help with the set up and tear down. Since we are a non-profit they are willing to do this and all they asked is that we feed them. We need to be thinking of places that can cater the food. We also will need members to bring ladders to help with the setup/take down of the quilts. Make sure to put your names on the ladders if you do bring them. There might be a possibility of needing extra folding tables too with all the items we have for the show. Small Quilt Auction has 42 quilts as of meeting in February, last year we had around 80.

Stock the Shop – Nora Krein

We are still taking items, even up to show day, so bring things at the meeting and also to the show to sell. At this time we have over 500 items to sell. If you have any plastic shopping bags you don't want, we can use them here.

Retreat to the Hills – Toni Fenton, Jennie Wehrenberg No update at this time.

Donna Murray's husband is getting more testing

Super Saturday Sew-In – Amy Rollins

Ozark Folkways – Kathy Garringer: This place is in Winslow and they offered a quilting day. This is a non-profit and has always been for folk art. Great place to visit and check out. It has a large room to use, would make a great place for a Super Saturday Sew In. If you haven't had a chance to check it out, it is worth the trip.

Other Business:

Soldiers On - Service Dogs and Vests for Vets: Kathy Garringer mentioned that Jack Jones wants to attend our meeting and take a few minutes to ask if some of our members might want to sew some dog capes and vests that will be made from soldier's uniforms.

This will come back in June. June will be Flowers and Summer

Reminders:

Four State Quilt Association: no date has been set yet
